I am a free spirited individual, who has had a love for performance since a young age. Growing up in Durban, I always felt I needed more from the world, as if it was too cramped and I needed to be let out. Now, I am in Cape Town, following my dream to become an actress and I am loving every moment of it. I've been incredibly grateful to step onto the sets of amazing productions, connect with inspiring people, and learn so much just by being surrounded by such creative energy. I am beyond excited to take my next big step forward.
